How long have you been creating art?

I've been creating art in general since I was a kid, and I've always been into drawing and crafting in many different forms. In terms of resin casting, I've been doing it since 2013 after getting into the crafting community on YouTube and watching many tutorials on clay and resin crafts. I used to make jewelry with resin to sell on Etsy all those years ago, and I made videos on it also. While I don't make YouTube videos anymore, after a break from selling and crafting, I got back into it in 2020 thanks to being at home and decided to incorporate my obsession with Final Fantasy XIV and make job stones.

What do you love to create the most?

I love the more complicated custom job stones based on people's Warriors of Light or characters and bosses from XIV. I love working with alcohol inks in resin also as they're unpredictable but almost always produce a beautiful result.

What motivates you to create?

Taking on commissions motivates me as people often have some very interesting ideas and I love to tackle them! Sometimes it can take a couple of tries to get it right, but when I do, the satisfaction from how happy people are when they see their charm motivates me to keep going and create more!

Who/What is the inspiration behind your art?

Taking on commissions motivates me as people often have some very interesting ideas and I love to tackle them! Sometimes it can take a couple of tries to get it right, but when I do, the satisfaction from how happy people are when they see their charm motivates me to keep going and create more!

Do you accept commissions?

I accept commissions for job stones through my Etsy store! I take custom job stones in batches of 10, so you can check out my Twitter to see when I'm finished with a batch if they're closed at the time of checking.

How long have you been creating art?

Since I was very young. I started with pencil sketches, then moved to painting. I've done tons of seascape and landscape paintings as well, but when I got into college and started working with 3D printers, I knew that's what I wanted to do! I started off with one 3D printer…now I own seven. I used to keep them running 24/7, but I've recently learned that their funny robotic sounds can be heard while I stream, so I try to keep them off during streaming hours.

What do you love to create the most?

I love creating life-size 3D printed swords! My latest design is a Gladius Sword with a mermaid engraved on the blade, because mermaids are awesome - especially on swords. I also have Cloud's Buster Sword, Hardedge, and Ultima Weapon in progress. I only work on them if I'm low on commissions though, which seems to be a rarity these days.

What motivates you to create?

A lot of my motivation comes from looking at my older artwork and realizing all the things I would do differently now. That gives me a sense of perspective on how far I've come and gives me the drive to keep pushing harder to improve. That's part of the fun for me!

gposers

Who/What is the inspiration behind your art?

My inspiration started off purely out of love for art and the satisfaction I get from creating new things. Painting, airbrushing, and 3D printing are my three main favorites, but I'm inspired by so much more now. The Final Fantasy XIV Community has been very kind to me. I have to give a shout-out to my Allure Lounge family! They've been extremely supportive, and they've been a huge source of inspiration for me. Of course, I also want to thank Sly and the Velvet Room for letting me do the WSLY giveaways!

Do you accept commissions?

Yes! However, there is a waiting list. My art is extremely time-consuming to make. If anyone is interested in a commission, the best way to contact me is on Discord.

WHO WILL YOU TAKE ON YOUR NEXT ADVENTURE?

gposers

TENDER LAMB

Acquired : FFXIV Online Store

Mint jelly optional.

As if predestined, your path crossed with that of the tender lamb's after she was brought to Eorzea from the dark reaches of the Far East by a hitsuji bugyo. Since then, you have been inseparable, the fluffy ball of fleece following your every footstep.

But everywhere the little lambs went, lice were sure to go. - Chartain

WATERPROOF GAELICAT

Acquired : Kupo of Fortune

Makes you feel toasty warm simply to behold it.

It is theorized that the gaelicat's garb is no garb at all, but an extension of its corporeal form. That this specimen appears to be wearing a winter coat is the result of its adaptation to Coerthan climes, while its ample girth came about via a more mundane process: overeating.

There is no creature so heavenly as the cat!

UNLUCKY BUNNY

Acquired : Gold Saucer Attendant - 30,000 MGP

Has known the bitterest lows and the sweetest highs.

Born of an idea proposed by Godbert Manderville, this leporine mammet proved tremendously popular in Ul'dah, but questions of ownership rights led to it serving as the mascot of the Platinum Mirage for a spell. It eventually returned to the Gold Saucer after legal matters were settled.

The damn things reproduce faster than rabbits in heat. - Raganher

BEHEMOTH HEIR

Acquired : Ardolain - Ishgard, Foundation - 400 Centurio Seals

Currently forty-seventh in line to the behemoth throne.

To prove his bravery, a recently inducted member of Clan Centurio journeyed alone into the untamed north and somehow returned unscathed with the broodling of the legendary kaiser behemoth. Not wishing to bring ill fortune on the clan, the pup was quickly passed on...to you.

Yer mistress fights like a bloody behemoth ten times her size!
- Wounded Chocobo Hunter

CLOCKWORK LANTERN

Acquired : Storm Sergeant - Wolves' Den Pier - 15,000 Wolf Marks

Hands-free illumination for the busy insomniac.

Seeing as collaborations are now all the rage in Eorzea, it did not take long for the tinkers of Eshtaime's Lapidaries to find their way to Frondale's Phrontistery to see what madness their collective minds could conceive. (A lantern. They made a lantern.)

They can scarce make do without their lanterns.

Garlock's Lair

Eastern La Noscea (25, 30)

Curious about the creature known only as “The Garlock”, master Gegeruju sent a group of sellswords into the dark cavern—aptly named “Garlock’s Lair”—within which the beast was said to live. Rumor has it that not only did this unfortunate group happen upon the Garlock itself, but also that they stumbled into the beast, waking it from it’s ages-long slumber.

The Eyes

Lower La Noscea (27, 21)

Commonly known as a post for the Yellowjackets' second levy, The Eyes is an immense stone outcrop that has two hollows cut wholly through, giving the illusion of watchful eyes on passersby with hidden intent.

gposers

The North Star

Coerthas Western Highlands (31, 6)

A merchant vessel that ran aground when the area froze over without warning following the events of the Calamity. Sadly, there were no known survivors.

INTRODUCING...

Rayib

PHOTOGRAPHER
CACTUAR

Well, this issue is coming to a close soon so I'll slip in here! Hey hey, I'm Rayib! Or just Ray if you prefer. All the pages in this issue and ones before it are exactly why I'm here right now. GPOSERS and all the people responsible for it are so amazingly inspiring and talented, I just had to be a part of it. From the photographers to the authors, to the designers, and everything in between. I'm overjoyed to now be a member of this team!

I joined the Final Fantasy XIV community in mid-2017, shortly after the release of Stormblood. In the last four years, I have been enjoying the story, wandering the overworld and dungeons alike, and most of all, taking pictures. I've definitely improved a lot in just a short time and I'm still always eager to learn new techniques and to help others with any questions, provided I possess the knowledge to answer them.

Outside of XIV I'm really into instruments and music as a whole and often go down rabbit holes of weird genres at 2 AM when I really should be sleeping. I also play other video games, especially JRPGs where I always get about forty hours into a game and never end up finishing it, only to then go back to it two years later and not know what's going on so I restart and the cycle repeats.

Nowadays you can usually spot me wandering the overworld in my spare time. While I've been on Cactuar for as long as I've played, you can be sure to find me on whatever server I have access to so don't be a stranger and shoot me a tell! However, with Endwalker's new areas you can be sure to find me wandering the overworld looking for any off the beaten path spots the developers left for us.

I suppose that's about all I have to say and then some to fill up the page! I've never been too great at writing outros for this kind of thing so uh...
